Citizen Committee Considers Courteous Park Meter Control A Must

Man Prefers Slot Machine To Parking Meters In Cameron

Cameron used to be a GOOD COUNTRY TOWN and we are making a mistake trying to make anything else out of it was one statement before a district court-room full of people Monday night.

Some attended a mass meeting to protest and some to protect the parking meters in Cameron.

Johnny Andres opened the meeting and Johnny Graham, service station operator was made "permanent" chairman.

John Summer Batte offered "I'd rather have slot machines on the street and I'd have something to pull and maybe get something... it just looks like a revenue raising measure to me."

R. L. "Bubba" Batte Jr. countered with "I've paid several over parking tickets, in one instance I was stupid enough to put the money on the wrong side of the meter." Batte continued "I am not for or against the meter", but it was his observation, that Cameron is now getting law enforcement that it hasn't been accustomed to. "I don't know Mr. Dolan (Chief Willie Dolan) but if he administers the law impartially then I'm fer him and if not I'm agin him." It looks like Cameron is going to have law enforcement, meters or not and I say that we should enforce them or get them out. "I'm not going to back up a select crowd in any gripe against the meters" he added.

Mr. H. P. Culpepper was called on by the chairman for comment but he refused.

Johnny Andres, in attempting to loosen up the crowd in the beginning said "We are all business men and there has been discussion that we are losing our business not only to drought and short crops and the Alcoa strike but our police are too strict and are causing our country customers to go elsewhere." "Speak up here and don't talk on the street because it isn't good for Cameron."

With this Claude Griggs offered "I, for one, believe they are hurting. The farmers who come into my cotton office have told me that they could as well trade some where else."

Hayden Lawrence, who finally resolved the meeting with a motion to appoint a committee to talk with the City Coucil, said "Cameron used to be a GOOD COUNTRY TOWN and that is all that it should be."

Mis-management! was the consensus of a number of those present.

Oxsheer Smith proved to be the mediator in the crowd. Bringing together the "factions" or the "factors" by relating that back before meters he parked by the Baptist Church and walked to work. At that time he suggested that his employes park outside the fire zone. It was found that the employes over town however parked in front of the stores, thus necessitating the meters. "We now have 19 employes, 16 of whom have cars and you can see what would happen if all those cars were parked on the street near the businesses.

HOWEVER, Smith told of an excursion to Dallas, stopped at a downtown hotel and was to be in the hotel for only a few minutes. The doorman told him to park "right there" in a no parking zone and he'd watch the car. The officers did not tag his out-of-town car which proves that they are not necessarily tough in the big cities just because they have meters.

Mr. Smith suggested the committee idea "Go before the council and suggest MORE UNDERSTANIDNG and more DISCRETION in the giving of the tickets (or the collection of the over-parking fees). He pointed to the issuing of tickets on meters where the meter will not correctly register the money. Said Smith "Let us approve in every way the action of the police department in enforcing the law but in the instance of the parking meter's let's ask that they enforce them in a more pleasing manner and with public relations in mind."

Hayden Lawrence then propos-

K of C Again To Hold Fun For All Day Sunday Aug. 26

It's always loads of fun at the Knights of Columbus Picnic at the KC Hall, say those who have attended before.

On Sunday, August 26 the fare will be barbecue and sausage with the trimmings, for a reasonable sum, for both dinner and supper.

Six nice prizes will be given away and music will be enjoyed all afternoon. The kiddies will have plenty rides to keep them busy and the teens up will have miniature golf, bowling and the like to assure them a good time. Then in the evening the chamber music will give way to the hot licks of Bennie Murski and his Melody Kings for dancing.

The Knights of Columbus know how to have a good time and they always see that everyone who attends their annual affair does too.

Henry Schattle advises that like in years past everyone "but everyone" is invited to attend and all will be made to feel at home.

AN EDITORIAL

By James E. "Bo" Patterson

Your first choice for governor was probably based on your personal knowledge of his qualifications for that high office.

But there is another, very very high office open and that is for ATTORNEY GENERAL. The FIRST Lawyer of the state. Did you honestly and truly KNOW the man for whom you voted in this race? Did you just say "Enie Meenie Miney Mo?", did you possibly decide on some basis such as "Where he lives?"

Nobody wants to question your judgement, if that is what you based your vote for Attorney General on but we would like to point out that "The people of Texas should choose their Attorney General with the same care they would use in employing their own personal lawyer." This is the statement of WILL WILSON, a candidate for that high office.

Will Wilson, 44, of Dallas County is not just out looking for advancement. He RESIGNED the post of Supreme Court Justice, after six years in that high office to run for Attorney General. He has been an assistant Attorney General. Wilson has gained the admiration and respect of the legal fraternity as a "Racket busting" District Attorney in Dallas County. Wilson is a FIGHTING attorney and he merely seeks to get back into the traces as a fighter and give up the more sedentary work of a Supreme Court Justice.

WILSON WILL give the state of Texas an experienced trial lawyer that is sorely needed to serve the state and her people as Attorney General.

WILSON WILL take a strong stand against encroachment of Federal laws. He declares that our state government should be strengthened to act as a bulwark against this encroachment. "And in the same connection, each local governing unit should be strengthened to withstand attacks by any state authority," he said.

Yes Will Wilson was selected as one of five district attorneys in the U.S. to speak before the Department of Justice's Conference on organized crime in Washington in 1950, Wilson was commended as one of the outstanding prosecutors on crime in the nation.

"The issue is not 'Do we have corruption in government," says Wilson but rather "Who is best qualified to clean it up?"

We will give you more of Will Wilson's qualifications next week but in the meantime ask yourself "Who is best qualified to clean up the mess in Austin — who will do the most thorough job? — Our answer is WILSON WILL. When you seriously consider Wilson's qaulifications we believe that you too will.

More Yoe Players May Get Jackets Thru New Policy

More football players might be allowed to receive jackets following football season as a result of action by the school board Thursday night.

In the future "It shall be the policy of the Cameron Independent School District that Athletic Awards will be given to students annually and to coaches at the discretion of the School Board."

The "merchandise certificate" which has been given in lieu of sweaters thus has been outlawed by the board with the expressed intent of giving more weight and honor to the "winning" of a jacket by a player.

In the line of formulating policy for the coming football season the board struck from the list of recipients of game passes the members of their own body but voted passes for the immediate past members of the school board.

A motion was killed which would have put the Cameron Independent School System into the Insurance Business.

Johnny Graham, local service station operator was low bidder for servicing of the school buses in the coming year.

Of the seven bidders Graham was low on the price of gasoline and had the best all around bid but in the instance of oil and grease was considered to be so low that the qualjty of these products will be investigated before he is given the contract.

Cracks inside and outside of the Ben Milam School have been noted and called to the attention of architects, Geren and Son of Fort Worth. A letter from that firm has indicated that the inside cracks may diminish with onset of cooler weather and be hardly noticeable but that the outside crack or cracks might be given attention to prevent entrance of moisture.

The architect's letter gave as the possible reason for the inside cracks the roof expansion under the intense summer heat but no reason was given for the outside crack.

Increase In Water Revenue Only Will Pay Bill

No Tax Increase Needed To Finance Water Sewer Bonds

Financial affairs of the city with reference to water and sewer were delved into at length Monday night in a special meeting of city council with Engineer Joe Rady and fiscal agents present with voluminous research material available.

Mr. Rady outlined what, in his opinion is needed for both Cameron water and sewer.

The amount of a bond issue for the extension and improvement was not set but will be available at the next regular session of the council on Tuesday August 21. During the week the engineer will explore the possibility of getting government aid on the sewer portion of the improvement.

It was shown conclusively that with only an increase of 25 percent in the water rate would raise sufficient funds to retire any amount of bonds that might be issued. This increase in the water rate then would obviate the necessity for any increase of the tax rate and, it was explained, is highly desirable because it spreads the cost of the project among all water users, whether renters or more or less transients and does not burden the taxpayer. The minimum water use would be lowered from 3,500 gallons to 3,000 and the rate for the minimum go up from $2.00 to $2.25 with the next 12,000 gallons selling for .35 cents per thousand and over 15,000 .30 per thousand. The $1.25 minimum for 1,000 gallon use is not affected. This increase, if adopted will bring in additional annual revenue of $15,000 which together with present net revenues will retire any amount of bonds required and will leave sufficient revenue, which together with taxes on the present level will operate the city and make reasonable extensions that might be required.

The council will be in session on the 21st. and will read the first reading of an ordinance for a bond issue which will then be passed only after reading at a second regular session of the council.

Cameron Man To Austin Hospital For Observation

A Cameron man is being held in County Jail preparatory to transfer to an Austin mental hospital to determine, if possible, the basis for his alleged actions in a case of fondling a little girl who regularly plays in City Park.

The man was apprehended by city police after it became known that he had made plans to meet the same youngster in the park at a given time and allegedly offered her a dollar if she showed up. The little girl didn't show up but police did and the man was on time according to the schedule known to police.

The papers of transferral to Austin are with the consent of relatives of the man and the aggrieved parents of the child.

Monday afternoon August 13 a committee of five girls, (Peggy Burke, Wanda Kirk, Elwanda Holland, Marie Horstmann, and Lorene Conley), met with Mrs. Whatley in the homemaking department to make detailed plans for exhibits, posters, invitations, decorations and organization. Other girls will meet other afternoons this week to finish planning and carrying out of plans.

Each homemaking girl who has participated in homemaking activities this summer is urged to bring samples of her work for exhibiting at the open house. Girls with sufficient materials are urged to make a complete booth of their own. Others with fewer items can bring at least one of each type to put into general exhibit booths.

Mrs. Whatley and Mrs. Edmonds will be delighted to hear from any homemaking girls who have questions about the exhibits. They will be in the homemaking department both Thursday and Friday afternoons if any care to bring samples of work at that time.

All Future Homemakers are needed to help get the department in readiness for the show. Won't you please come help?

All parents are urgently request ed to let the girls know that you believe in their work and their efforts.

Please come Friday evening, 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. to the homemaking department, Yoe High School Gymnasium.

Milam Judge Tells Local Newspaper Off

If there be misgivings about the determination, the fighting tenacity, yes and not the least, the "picturesque" language of Milam's own County Judge then those misgivings were dispelled at the Monday session of the Commissioner's Court for some Milam County people.

A delegation of seven from the Yarrelton community was summoned to explain why they should not donate 25.34 acres across the middle of their valuable farmland as right-of-way for FM 2269 extension to the Bell County line. They heard their road problem referred to in a vernacular which would indignify a high class barroom, much less the "dignity" of Milam County Courtroom. At least two of these men were McCalls and D. H. McCall a Temple Jr. College professor, a sensitive man, could not have but winced at the appellations tossed about in open court by your honorable county Judge.

An Alcoa representative was next in the line of the Judge's ire. The gentleman representing the interests of that Milam Industrial Gargantuan raised from 11.5 million evaluation in 1955 to near 13 million in 1956 heard your spunky little county Judge declaim "If the commissioners decide to reconvene as an equalization board they do so without the consent and, or participation of myself," and then the gem "I am not going to let the court walk off into a Parris Island Swamp." A statement which alone should rate a niche in the Hall of Fame for your county Judge.

If we recall the case of Sgt. McKeown he was found not guilty on the serious charge against him but it was his drinking that got him into the most trouble.

Mr. Sanders, manager of the Thorndale Oil Mill Co-op and mayor or the city was last visitor on the agenda and his was a routine tax matter. A motion, composed by the honorable Judge, and moved by Commissioner Younts, and seconded by someone but NEVER voted upon (although the minutes will not reflect this slight deviation) was not understood by the Cameron Herald reporter. Moving to the table, a move which is reprehensible and downright shameful, the reporter sought to clarify the motion for a report to the public. "Are you a member of this court?" facetiously inquired your spunky little county Judge. The answer being apparent the judge ordered a retreat to the sidelines, for your reporter.

How is the law enforcement in Thorndale? the Judge inquired of the Mayor of that city who was by now through with his buisness "We haven't any" but I find that we may be just as well off when I hear about the budgets for Rockdale and Cameron police. This thrashed out, it was the Mayor's turn for a question of the Judge. "What is the matter with the food distribution program?" Oh, what that man asked!

"NOTHING IS THE MATTER, only some inter-meddling that's going on. Well said the mayor of the interested little city Ive been reading about it in the Cameron paper.

Then it came the naughty reporter who had presumed to sit at the table of the Milam County Commissioner's Court blurted out "That's why I am not allowed at that table."

OH, OH- what his honor said then.

"Your're (bad word) lucky to be inside that door (an honor which no one could deny) and if you keep fooling around (meaning writing disturbing pieces about FOOD DISTRIBUTION-LACK) you wont get in. And furthermore if you print MY NAME in that (wow what he called my newspaper) I'll WHIP YOUR (bad word) (anatomy or part thereof).

Well that is one day, morning that is, in Milam County Commissioner's Court. For an exciting time come around some third Monday. Remember that is YOUR COURT But don't you dare open your mouth.

"Why Permanent Peace Will Come In Our Day" Is Convention Topic

The local congregation of Jehovah's witnesses was counted among the delegates to the District Convention which was held at Waco, August 2—5, according to Fred Starnes, presiding minister. The Sunday afternoon attendance reached the peak of 8132.

Some 16 states and 4 foreign countries were represented at the 4-day gathering, which was held with the goal of improving educational teaching methods in the missionary services, as well as assisting the delegates to become more qualified for the ministry. The highlight of the entire program was the public Bible lecture which was given Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Blosco Muscariello of New York, his subject, being "Why Permanent Peace Will Come in Our Day".

Another feature which was of importance was the baptism service that was held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. There were 215 baptized, thus dedicating their lives to Jehovah as did Jesus in the example he set by water immersion.

The program was bi-lingual in aspect, is being duplicated throughout various parts of the earth, with 100 cities being used for convention cities by Jehovah's witnesses this summer.

Frank Dawson Heirs Being Sought In Central Texas Area

Possibly aged brothers and sisters but more likely nieces and nephews of the late Frank Dawson are being sought in and around Waco and Temple, Texas, as well as in the Dallas-Fort Worth area to claim his $8,000 estate to which they are successively but unknowingly the heirs.

Walter C. Cox, probate genealogist, 208, S. LaSall eSt,. Chicago, who specializes in tracing missing relatives to settle estates, is directing the hunt with but few helpful clues. He said there is "some possibility" that Dawson's cousins may succeed to claim.

"Frank Dawson, who was about 76 years old, died recently without descendants, leaving the estate, "Mr. Cox said, "after he had spent years trying to locate members of his family, from whom he separated by leaving home when about 15 years old.

"He was the son of Charles and Mary Dawson and the family reportedly lived while Frank was a boy at home, in what was then called Nettie, Tex., a small town later absorbed by the city of Dallas.

"Later his parents or some of his brothers and sisters reportedly moved to Waco and Temple. settling in the areas. One of his sisters, about 8 years younger, was known to have been named Emma.

"She would be about 69 if still living, and with other brothers and sisters would have first claim to the estate. If any of these brothers or sisters are deceased, their children (Frank's nieces and nephews) would also share."

"Unfortunately, we do not know the first names of Frank's brothers and sisters other than Emma, and it appears likely that her identity has been concealed by her married name.

"Should it be proven that none of Frank Dawson's brothers or sisters or their descendants are still living, then legal claim to the estate would revert to descendants of brothers and sisters of Frank's parents, Charles and Mary Dawson, who would be Frank's cousins."

Vet Land Recovery Program Showing Net Profits Says A.G.

The State of Texas has won judgments amounting to $1,770,000 which represents over one-half of the amount involved in cases in the Veteran's Land clean-up and recovery program, it was announced this week by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

The latest judgments won by the State were against J. Paul Little, Crystal City for $69,054.94 and against Carol Burns, Carrizo Springs for $112,700.00.

Shepperd pointed out that the State had tried 22 out of 35 cases filed, winning all of them. He also pointed out that with the value of the land in the recoverd suits plus the interest due, the State will realize a profit even on the questioned transactions.

PARKING METERS —

ed the motion that "You appoint a committee to meet with the Council and protest the manner of enforcing it."

The motion carried without dissent but with only a small voice vote carrying.

A committee was then appointed by chairman Graham with Johnny Andres as it's chairman, Hayden Lawrence, Oxsheer Smith, George Childress and Rube Johnson.

The committee banded together immediately to confront the council in extra session at the time on the water-sewer proposition but disbanded because the nature of the council's business precluded such business at a special meeting.

Jack W. Prescott who was invited both as a citizen and as legal counsel reported "There has never been an exhaustive study on the ordinance that put the parking meters in Cameron but the Council promised a vote after six months.

Now under the charter you do have a way of correcting bad ordinance on the books is subject to referendum and with signature of 50 percent of the people voting in the last election which was 1,000. Therefore with 500 signatures on a petition the council must either repeal the ordinance or call an election." This is according to Section 89 of the charter.

The ordinance was legal the attorney averred but he questioned the moral aspect in that according to promise it would have been put to a vote within six months to determine the popular opinion on desirability.

YOE PLAYERS —

Superintendent Loughmiller was asked to contact the architects to determine remedies before the beginning of the school year.

As a hold-over from the past administration of the Cameron Schools a memorandum was offered in which former Superintendent W. T. Hanes showed, without itemization, travel mileage of 2280 miles and sought payment at seven cents per mile or $159.60. The claim was disallowed.

A female married applicant for student status was accepted on a probationary basis and the policy was set that married applicants for student status will be individually acted upon by the board.

A thorough pupil testing program was ordered initiated as soon as possible.

At an earlier meeting of the board the minutes revealed that a secretary for Principal Dick Young at a salary of $150 monthly was okayed and the salary of Superintendent Loughmiller's secretary will be $250 per month. $1800 was authorized as the maximum to be paid above Gilmer-Aiken level for two football coaches-teachers to be hired for the new year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zelisko was hired as Librarian for the Ada Henderson school and Louis Roberts was hired as a mathmatics teach er at O. J. Thomas at the Gilmer-Aiken level.

School bus drivers elected were L. R. Wallace full time and Tom Wardlaw a part time driver in the place of Homer Tompkins who has moved on to Irving.

A $122 check was authorized to be paid to the State Department of Public Welfare for surplus commodities for the school lunch program.

Consideration of the purchase of the Morrison property for future expansion was thrown out in favor of expansion in other directions of the school.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

GENERAL ROBERT AND YOU

Whether it's the nomination of a presidential candidate at one of the national political conventions, or the monthly meeting of your neighborhood PTA, a set of procedural rules compiled 80 years ago by an almost-forgotten Army General usually has much to do with the way the business is conducted.

You have probably heard of "Robert's Rules of Order" which was published in 1876. General Henry M. Robert ordered only 4,000 of his original edition, but since that time almost 1,500,000 copies have been printed. The rules have been modernized from time to time, but the revisions have been slight.

Actually the rules for conducting a meeting go back to the early days of the English Parliament, although General Robert based his upon the rules and practice of the U. S. Congress.

Robert's Rules come close to being "law of the land". They are given added legal status by the fact that the charter, constitution, or by-laws of almost every organizaion you can name - your wife's lierary society, your labor union, or the corporation you work for (large or small) - ordinarily state somewhere that all meetings will be "conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order". Special rules may be made by any organization contrary to Robert, but if such provisions are not in the by-laws his little book - where incorporated in such by-laws - remains the "bible" to be followed strictly.

All this means, in effect, that if a serious question arises over the legality of action taken by an organization, a court might have to consider General Robert's rules with the same care as it does the law to determine whether the action in question was proper.

If you take an active part in church, school, civic or fraternal organizations, some knowledge of Robert's Rules is important. At your lodge meeting, for example, things go much smoother if both the chairman and the members on the floor follow Robert and stick to the business at hand. That way you'll get home before the wee, small hours, and still have time for some relaxation after the business session.

There are many simple guides to Robert that will help, and unless you are chairmen of a large or important meeting it probably isn't necessary to know all the details in the whole book.

Now we move to adjourn until next week - a motion which General Robert says takes precedence over everything else.

This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform - not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

CAMERON-SHARP —

The same two teams will play the second game of the series Sunday, August 19 in Cameron.

Winner of this series will play the winner of the Rockdale vs. Milano series for the loop championship.

The Cameron team was sponsored by Cameron Fruit and the players themselves. Come to the game Sunday.

Ed. Note: Accompanying the following story of early Cameron titled "Thinking of Home" a letter came from Demmy M. Kemp a brother of the late Judge Jeff T. Kemp and a former publisher of the Cameron Daily Herald. He now lives in Greensburg, Louisiana The little historical gem is his and comes to you with his compliments.

by Demmy M. Kemp

The prettiest piece of music I ever heard, is "Thinking of Home"; "Home, Sweet Home" has its charm, but "Thinking of Home, by its name, makes one remember the old home town, where you were raised from childhood and the many thoughts connected with it and thats what I am thinking of today-Cameron, my old childhood home town.

Our family moved from Louisiana, to Cameron in April, 1881, when the Santa Fe Railroad had just been finished as far north as Temple.

My father, D. Kemp and his brother, Marshall Kemp established a mercantile business under the name of "D. Kemp and Brother" in a small building, where now stands the McLane Wholesale Grocery firm and we lived in a small cottage in the rear of the store, where my youngest brother Louis Wiltz Kemp, Texas Historian, was born a few months later. That street had several small business houses on it to the south, the last being a Saloon and in about the center of the street Mr. Knauff had a business of some sort; he was an ex-Confederate soldier and used to tell us all about the war and how many "Dam Yankees" he killed. He had a son called "Baby Knauff" the largest person I had ever see, who soon afterwards died and they had to build a special casket to hold his enormous body. The business part of the sleepy old town, was mostly built around the old Court House, and the memory of the old court room is not pleasant, for most men "Chawed" tobacco in those days and the cuspidors were usually loaded with tobacco juice; many were poor marksmen and missed the pot. All the stores had long benches in front, for people to rest and exchange the local gossip. The completion of the railroad stimulated the growth of the village, for like old Van Winkle, it awakened from its slumber of several years, shook itself and took on new life.

In less than two years following our arrival in January 1883, my mother described Cameron in a letter to her sister-in-law, as follows: "Cameron is still improving we have seven large dry goods stores, two groceries, one book and music store, three milliner shops, a candy and fruit shop and three or four miserable establishments, called saloons". Where the City Hall now stands and in the rear of it and about fifteen feet below the front, was once a blacksmith shop, with a spring near by. The shop was owned by the mighty Jumbo Lariby (who married Mary Little), who used his anvils to fire salutes on special holidays, such as when Hoods Texas Brigade had a reunion.

When we arrived, it was only about 20 years since Major Rogers (Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp's father) had organized a company in Cameron, to join the Confederate army, to become part of Hoods Texas Brigade, who fought in most of the important engagements of that terrible war, among which was Gettysburg, where Major Elbert Bean lost his arm. He was years later made Treasurer of Milam County.

When the news of the election of Grover Cleveland as President in 1884 reached Cameron, the town went wild; the church bells rang day and night, as did the anvils of Jumbo Lariby, who moved his anvils to the Court House yard and fired them day and night; at night, a parade of horseman paraded the streets with torches and probably a little "Firewater" under their belts, for they yelled like Comanche Indians. Most men rode horseback in those days, for it was more of a cattle country then, than farming and more dangerous to steal a horse, than kill a man; for the common defense of killing a man, was that the man who was killed: "Reached in his PISTOL pocket"; meaning hip pocket where men toted their pistols. Many of the men became bowlegged from constantly riding horseback and when they did walk and meet a friend, both would squat down to talk; the girls rode on side saddles and didn't Squat; so will advise all young gals to quit riding stride or they will get the squatting habit.

There were only two churches in Cameron when we arrived, the Baptist and the Methodist and both segregated their members by not allowing men and women to sit together, making the men take the right side and ladies the left. The wall on the men's side was stained with tobacco juice. I don't remeber the name of our Methodist minister, only that he preached very long sermons and kept me awake by constantly telling about the horrors of Hell and thoroughly convincing me that I didn't want to live in such a place brother James Peeler, used to assist him and preach very short sermons but was as much against sin as the other preacher but he let us out early for our usual Sunday chicken dinners, and we all loved him. I was with this dear old soul at his death bed and he told me:" I think our church is wrong on taking the stand they do on dancing, for its kept many boys and girls from becoming members of our church".

Rail oddities

This month the State of Iowa and the railroads commemorate the 75th anniversary of a legendary deed of heroism performed by a girl of 15 – Kate Shelley, whose father had been a section foreman.
Torrential rains for a week had brought to flood stage all the streams in her neighborhood. Then a cloudburst on the night of July 6, 1881. The railroad had sent out a pilot engine to test the track. Through a flash of lightning, Kate saw the locomotive drop through a bridge into the churning waters of Honey Creek.
With a Chicago-bound passenger train due in an hour, this young girl went out into the darkness and the storm. She made her perilous way on hands and knees across the long Des Moines River bridge and finally, bleeding and exhausted, to the first railroad station just in time to warn of the danger and avert disaster.

Gibbs is a non-veteran who is having his first experience with military training. He was sworn in as a Private during the drill period last Tuesday night. He also is employed by the local door factory.

CAMERON HERALD CLASSIFIED ADS GET QUICK RESULTS

At this time of year several questions arise concerning the control of weevils in stored beans and peas. These insects can be controlled with liquid fumigants. Proper dosage and use of the fumigant at the correct time will not destroy the germination of the seed nor render them unfit for human food.

Seeds can be fumigated in any airtight container such as a G. I. can, barrell, metal garbage can, lard can or a wooden box.

Several liquid fumigants are availbale that can be used. One of the most common is carbon disulfide or "high-life". Others are: (1) carbon tetrachloride (2) carbon tetrachloride plus ethylene dichloride plus ethylene dibromide (3) carbon tetrachloride plus carbon disulfide or (4) carbon tetrachloride plus ethylene dichloride.

Use 1 to 1½ oz. of the fumigant to each bushel of seed. A 3 bu container with only 1 bu. of seed would require more than 1 or 1½ oz. for proper fumigation. It is best to use 3 or 4 oz. of the fumigant in this case because of the large area that does not contain seed.

Place a pie pan or some similar container on top of the seed. Pour the proper dosage of fumigant into the pan. Secure the lid tightly for 24 to 48 hours. Then remove the seed from the container and allow them to air. After airing, the seeds are suitable for eating purposes. If seeds are to be stored over a long period of time, check frequently for appearance of insects. At the first sign of insect activity, fumigate again. Fumigate when the temperature is above 70 degrees and below 95.

Exercise caution in using carbon disulfide because of its explosive and inflammable properties. Keep all lights and fires away from the liquid and its fumes. The other fumigants mentioned are relatively safe to use and are not as inflammable. Do not fumigate inside the dwelling. Fumigate inside a garage or some other building that is well ventilated.

Mary Ellen Richter Has Advanced Far Toward State Future Homemaker Degree

By Mrs. Imogene Whatley

Mary Ellen Richter, sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richter, Rt. 1, Cameron, has made an outstanding record as a homemaking student. Her varied projects in sewing, food preservation, food preparation, home improvement, and child care have helped her improve many of her homemaking skills. At the same time she has become a more useful citizen and family member. Her mother and father and her eleven year old sister, Henrietta complete her family.

Mary Ellen's most recent project was the completion of denim slip covers for a platform rocker and lounging glider. and a matching non-removable cover for a cushioned rocking chair. Although her past sewing experiences have enabled her to become an excellent seamstress, this was her first attempt at slip-cover sewing.

Her other sewing projects this year in homemaking have included two dresses for her mother; for her sister, three dresses, one pair of shorts, three blouses, three skirts, and a can-can petticoat; for herself, five dresses more difficult than ever before attempted, six blouses (three of these difficult because made from old garments), three skirts, two jackets (velveteen and corduroy), one can-can petticoat, one pair of shorts, and two pair of shortie pajamas.

Mary Ellen has also canned thirty six pints of bread and butter pickles, and twenty-four qts. of other pickles. She has frozen fourteen pints of corn, twenty pts. of ice cream that friends and family have already tested generously for approval!

Besides completing projects in sewing and canning, Mary Ellen has also found time this summer to help with the yard work. She has helped make benches for a family sitting area, helped care for the fruit trees and flower beds and painted the stands and pots for the indoor plants.

There are no small children in her own family so to gain real (above than textbook experience) in child care Mary Ellen voluntarily baby sat for some of her friends. The children were six months to two and one-half years of age. She admitted that actually caring for children is much more difficult than just reporting what her text book said!

Mary Ellen is a candidate for the State Degree in Future Homemakers of America.

Yes, you get bonus heat on top of the stove as well as in the oven when you cook electrically. * What is "bonus heat?" It's the heat that remains in the electric element after the switch is turned off. It's the free heat that continues to cook until the element cools off.

An electric range oven is insulated on all six sides. As a result you get bonus heat every time you use your electric range because you cook with the electricity off much of the time.

You also get extra dividends when you cook electrically because of the economies in cleaning materials, laundry and decorating expenses.

"Proposed Constitutional Amendments To Be Voted On At An Election To Be Held On November 6. 1956

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 15 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Article VII, Sections 17 and 18, providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning and repealing Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, Fifty-third Legislature; and proposing an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section after Section 11 thereof to be designated as Section 11a, providing for the improved support of The University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas from a source other than tax revenue by providing for the broader investment of the Permanent University Fund in corporate bonds and stocks under certain conditions and limitations; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Sections 17 and 18 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the State ad valorem tax on property of Seven Cents (7¢) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article 3, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of Two Cents (2¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the continuing payment of Confederate pensions as provided under Section 51, Article 3, and for the establishment and continued maintenance of the State Building Fund as provided in Section 51b, Article 3, of the Constitution.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of Five Cents (5¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning; and the governing board of each of such institutions of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. Such bonds or notes shall be issued in such amounts as may be determined by the governing boards of said respective institutions, shall bear interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise not later than September 1, 1968, and September 1, 1978, respectively; provided, the power to issue bonds or notes hereunder is expressly limited to a period of twenty (20) years from the effective date of this amendment; and provided further, that the Five Cent (5¢) tax hereby levied shall expire finally upon payment of all bonds or notes hereby authorized; provided, further, that the State tax on property as heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 9 of Article VIII, as amended, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty Cents (30¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. Said bonds shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

"Funds raised from said Five Cent (5¢) tax levy for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1958, shall be allocated by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas on June first of that year, based on the average long session full-time student equivalent enrollment (fifteen (15) semester credit hours shall constitute one full-time student) for the preceding five-year period of time, to the following State institutions of higher learning then in existence, to wit:

Texas State College for Women at Denton; Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville; Texas Technological College at Lubbock; East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce; North Texas State College at Denton; Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville; Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos; Stephen F. Austin State College at Nacogdoches; Sul Ross State College at Alpine; West Texas State College at Canyon; Texas Southern University at Houston; Lamar State College of Technology at Beaumont.

"Not later than June first of the beginning year of each succeeding ten-year period, the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, based on the average long session full-time student equivalent enrollment (fifteen (15) semester credit hours shall constitute one full-time student) for the preceding five-year period of time, shall re-allocate, to the above-designated institutions of higher learning then in existence, all funds to be derived from said Five Cent (5¢) ad valorem tax for said ten-year period; and all such designated institutions of higher learning which participate in the allocation or re-allocation of such funds shall not thereafter receive any General Revenue funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the uninsured loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of any General Revenue funds. The State Comptroller of Public Accounts shall draw all necessary and proper warrants upon the State Treasury in order to carry out the purpose of this amendment; and the State Treasurer shall pay warrants so issued out of the special fund hereby created for said purpose. This amendment shall be self-enacting; provided, however, it shall not become operative or effective upon its adoption so as to supersede or repeal the former provisions of this Section, but shall become operative and effective on January 1, 1958; provided, further, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing the obligation incurred by any outstanding notes or bonds heretofore issued by any State institution of higher learning under this Section prior to the adoption of this amendment, but such notes or bonds shall be paid, both as to principal and interest, from the fund as heretofore allocated to any such institution under this Section, nor shall the provisions of this amendment affect in any way the prior allocation of the revenue for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1948, as heretofore authorized by the provisions of Section 17 of Article VII of this Constitution as adopted August 23, 1947, Chapter 330, Acts, Regular Session, Fifty-third Legislature is repealed upon the effective date of this Amendment; but the principal and interest due on any obligations incurred by the governing boards of Lamar State College of Technology at Beaumont and of Texas Southern University at Houston under the provisions of said Chapter 330 prior to its repeal shall be paid from the allocations to Lamar State College of Technology and Texas Southern University from funds raised by the Five Cent (5¢) ad valorem tax levy as provided in this Section, and the annual allocations to these institutions under this Section shall be first devoted to current requirements for meeting such obligations in accordance with their terms.

"Section 18. For the purpose of constructing, equipping, or acquiring buildings or other permanent improvements for the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System, including the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at College Station, Arlington State College at Arlington, Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at Prairie View, Tarleton State College at Stephenville, Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Engineering Experiment Station, at College Station, Texas Engineering Extension Service, at College Station, and the Texas Forest Service, the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas is hereby authorized to issue negotiable bonds or notes not to exceed a total amount of one-third (⅓) of twenty per cent (20%) of the value of the Permanent University Fund exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance thereof; provided, however, no building or other permanent improvement shall be acquired or constructed hereunder for use by any part of The Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System, except at and for the use of the general academic institutions of said System, namely, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, Arlington State College, Tarleton State College, and Prairie View A. and M. College, without the prior approval of the Legislature or of such agency as may be authorized by the Legislature to grant such approval; and for the purpose of constructing, equipping, or acquiring buildings or other permanent improvements for The University of Texas System, including the Main University of Texas at Austin, The University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, The University of Texas Dental Branch at Houston, The University of Texas at El Paso, The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston, The University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine, The University of Texas School of Public Health, McDonald Observatory at Mount Locke, and the Marine Science Institute at Port Aransas, the Board of Regents of The University of Texas is hereby authorized to issue negotiable bonds and notes not to exceed a total amount of two-thirds (⅔) of twenty per cent (20%) of the value of the Permanent University Fund exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance thereof; provided, however, no building or other permanent improvement shall be acquired or constructed hereunder for use by any institution of The University of Texas System, except at and for the use of the general academic institutions of said System, namely, the Main University and Texas Western College, without the prior approval of the Legislature or of such agency as may be authorized by the Legislature to grant such approval. Any bonds or notes issued hereunder shall be payable solely out of the income from the Permanent University Fund. Bonds or notes so issued shall mature serially or otherwise not more than thirty (30) years from their respective dates.

"The Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System and all of the institutions constituting such System as hereinabove enumerated, and The University of Texas System, and all of the institutions constituting such System as hereinabove enumerated, shall not, after the effective date of this Amendment, receive any General Revenue funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements, except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the uninsured loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of General Revenue funds.

"Said Boards are severally authorized to pledge the whole or any part of the respective interests of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and of The University of Texas in the income from the Permanent University Fund, as such interests are now apportioned by Chapter 42 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the Forty-second Legislature of the State of Texas, for the purpose of securing the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds or notes. The Permanent University Fund may be invested in such bonds or notes.

"All bonds or notes issued pursuant hereto shall be approved by the Attorney General of Texas and when so approved shall be incontestable. This amendment shall be self-enacting and shall become effective January 1, 1958; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing any obligation heretofore created by the issuance of any outstanding notes or bonds under this section by the respective Boards prior to the adoption of this amendment but any such outstanding notes or bonds shall be paid in full, both principal and interest, in accordance with the terms of such contracts."

Sec. 2. That Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended by adding after Section 11 thereof a new Section to be designated Section 11a, which shall read as follows:

"Section 11a. In addition to the bonds now enumerated in Section 11 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, the Permanent University Fund may be invested in first lien real estate mortgage securities guaranteed in any manner in whole by the United States Government or any agency thereof and in such corporation bonds, preferred stocks and common stocks as the Board of Regents of The University of Texas may deem to be proper investments for said fund; and the interest and dividends accruing from the securities listed in Section 11 and Section 11a, except the portion thereof which is appropriated by the operation of Section 18 of Article VII for the payment of principal and interest on bonds or notes issued thereunder, shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purposes declared in Section 10 of Article VII of this Constitution. In making each and all of such investments said Board of Regents shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital; provided, however, that not more than fifty per cent (50%) of said fund shall be invested at any given time in corporate stocks and bonds, nor shall more than one per cent (1%) of said fund be invested in securities issued by any one (1) corporation, nor shall more than five per cent (5%) of the voting stock of any one (1) corporation be owned; and provided, further, that stocks eligible for purchase shall be restricted to stocks of companies incorporated within the United States which have paid dividends for ten (10) consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase and which, except for bank stocks and insurance stocks, are listed upon an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successors. This amendment shall be self-enacting, and shall become effective upon its adoption, provided, however, that the Legislature shall provide by law for full disclosure of all details concerning the investments in corporate stocks and bonds and other investments authorized herein."

Sec. 3. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A.D. 1956, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Sections 17 and 18 thereof, providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning; and by adding a new section thereto to be designated as Section 11a, providing for the improved support of The University of Texas System and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System by authorizing the investment of the Permanent University Fund in corporate bonds and stocks under certain conditions and limitations."

"AGAINST the Amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas as by amending Sections 17 and 18 thereof, providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at State institutions of higher learning; and by adding a new section thereto to be designated as Section 11a, providing for the improved support of The University of Texas System and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College System by authorizing the investment of the Permanent University Fund in corporate bonds and stocks under certain conditions and limitations."

Sec. 4. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

About The Free Ride That Welcome Woods Paid For

If you've never heard of the "Free ride of Welcome Woods" let us brief you on it and then you get the weird details from the Milano man who loves to tell a joke that was on himself.

"Welcome" is a hog man and as a public weigher he'd exceed because 'tis said that he can guess a hog's weight as close as a public scales. And with "Welcome" a coon doesn't stand a chance at survival.

To get on down to his favorite story though it goes like this: Welcome has a cousin he calls "Cuz" and this pair together, it was about 15 years ago were riding their model A home from Robertson County. It was a dark, very dark night and unknown to Welcome and Cuz a pair of "Jokers by the name of Harvin Reese and Alvin Nelson were driving behind them and the two in the rear "seen their chance for a practical joke and tuck it."

Nelson switched off his lights, eased up behind the Model A and with Reese on the running board to guide him, in a neat bit of timing, he started pushing the Model A just as it bumped over a highway traffic counter west of the Brazos. That traffic counter was why Welcome and Cuz never knew the strange force that gripped their little car that night.

Nelson picked up speed. Welcome knew the grade was fairly steep so he didn't think too much of the extra speed but after the grade started up instead of down the speed increased. "Cuz" "this fool car is running away." said Welcome.

Well, you take it from there — Consternation prevailed. But we just have to go on a little further. "Cut off the switch" Cuz hollered. "Why man I've had the switch off and the key in my pocket." "Hold 'er in the road — maybe we'll run out of gas," said the fast thinking Cuz. "Thunder Man" we've got enough gas to carry us through Austin" and this was about the time they were nearing Gause.

Well, after tearing the foot feed out by the roots and with a handful of wires from under the dash that looked like spaghetti, and nearing the MP tracks near Gause the jokesters cut loose and let the cousins glide on through the underpass.

Nelson and Reese were securely hidden behind a curve and after a reasonable wait, turned on their lights and pulled up to the cousins who they swear both dived out of the model A and hit the ditch when the "A" needed a halt, and queried "Anything wrong boys? — You know, real neighborly like.

On one occasion it had dawned on Welcome to look back to see if anything was pushing, when even his brakes failed to slow him down but by the time the thought flashed across his mind he was too busy.

You ask Welcome to fill you in if this isn't enough.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER PAUSES BETWEEN CONVENTION SPEECHES TO GIVE THOUGHT TO FARM PROBLEMS.

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River has been listening to the national convention, but apparently not closely enough, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editar:

I have been following the national political conventions pretty close lately but in between major speeches and during recess I've been keeping some newspapers handy to brush up on my mental work, and the other day while the delegates were recovering from a speech solving the farm problem and before they settled down to hearing the foreign situation taken care of, I flipped through a paper and ran into an article that said that in spite of the drouth in many areas the nation's farm surplus will double in the next ten years.

If that's true, and despite the drouth I notice the country is going to produce about as much this year as it did last year, then the problem of what to do with surplus farmers still remains.

I have seen several answer to this problem, but haven't made up my mind.

For example, one expert says farms should be taken out of politics.

Another says they should be taken out of production.

The only trouble with these two solutions is that they won't work. Trying to take Congress out of existence. And trying to take a farm out of production is sort of like trying to teach a cow to eat up your property line and not step into the adjoining pasture when the fence is down. You can take nearly any given farmer out of farming and make a barber or a grocery clerk out of him, but when he quits somebody else moves in, and production stays the same, maybe improves a little if the farmer who quits is no better at producing than I am.

To tell you the truth, and I don't want this to get around to politicians I like to see something in all platforms about the farm problem. it's sort of like seeing your own name in the newspaper, it doesn't mean anything but it reads good, but as I say, to tell you the truth, I don't think there is a solution to the farm problem. Eliminating the farm problem is about like eliminating the tax problem, or the problem of eventually needing a new car. All such problems are here to stay.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Turned Out To Be a Good Break

We had a water main break last Thursday. Happened early in the morning—about two a.m.—and the first thing most of us knew about it was when we tried to turn on the faucets and nothing came out but a hissing noise.

Nobody was inconvenienced much though. Repair crew went right to work—and things were fixed up in jig time.

Incidentally, the water company got a flood of payments on overdue bills that day. Lots of "forgetful" folks must have figured they were being warned!

From where I sit, sometimes our obligations slip our minds. Like the responsibility we all have to our communities . . . to see that our neighbors enjoy the right to decide for themselves how to work, how to vote, whether or not to enjoy a bottle of beer. Any time we "forget" we owe this right to others, we take a chance on stopping the flow of tolerance that makes this country such a grand place for us to live in.

Would you trade 20 minutes of your time for a saving of hundreds?

August is Saving Season at your Ford Dealer's. Bag a deal while he clears his decks for the '57 models.

Why put off the fun of a Ford Test Drive for a single day? As you know, it puts you under absolutely no obligation. And it may save you literally hundreds of dollars—we'll get to that a little further on.

By a Test Drive we mean more than a once-around-the-block "spin."

We want you to test the power that rocketed Ford to a 500-mile stock car record at Indianapolis . . . the GO that won the grand prize at NASCAR's Daytona Championships. We want you to feel how this Ford scat pays off in your kind of driving: in traffic, passing on the highway, getting going at traffic lights. We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 h.p. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball-Joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment . . . shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five crossmembers (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Now—what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

NOW! A FORD with AIR CONDITIONING costs less than many medium-priced cars without it. TRY ONE TODAY! Based on a comparison of suggested list prices.

FORD goes first

PARKING METERS —
ed the motion that "You appoint a committee to meet with the Council and protest the manner of enforcing it."

The motion carried without dissent but with only a small voice vote carrying.

A committee was then appointed by chairman Graham with Johnny Andres as it's chairman, Hayden Lawrence, Oxsheer Smith, George Childress and Rube Johnson.

The committee banded together immediately to confront the council in extra session at the time on the water-sewer proposition but disbanded because the nature of the council's business precluded such business at a special meeting.

Jack W. Prescott who was invited both as a citizen and as legal counsel reported "There has never been an exhaustive study on the ordinance that put the parking meters in Cameron but the Council promised a vote after six months.

Now under the charter you do have a way of correcting bad ordinance on the books is subject to referendum and with signature of 50 percent of the people voting in the last election which was 1,000. Therefore with 500 signatures on a petition the council must either repeal the ordinance or call an election." This is according to Section 89 of the charter.

The ordinance was legal the attorney averred but he questioned the moral aspect in that according to promise it would have been put to a vote within six months to determine the popular opinion on desirability.

YOE PLAYERS —
Superintendent Loughmiller was asked to contact the architects to determine remedies before the beginning of the school year.

As a hold-over from the past administration of the Cameron Schools a memorandum was offered in which former Superintendent W. T. Hanes showed, without itemization, travel mileage of 2280 miles and sought payment at seven cents per mile or $159.60. The claim was disallowed.

A female married applicant for student status was accepted on a probationary basis and the policy was set that married applicants for student status will be individually acted upon by the board.

A thorough pupil testing program was ordered initiated as soon as possible.

At an earlier meeting of the board the minutes revealed that a secretary for Principal Dick Young at a salary of $150 monthly was okayed and the salary of Superintendent Loughmiller's secretary will be $250 per month. $1800 was authorized as the maximum to be paid above Gilmer-Aiken level for two football coaches-teachers to be hired for the new year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zelisko was hired as Librarian for the Ada Henderson school and Louis Roberts was hired as a mathmatics teacher at O. J. Thomas at the Gilmer-Aiken level.

School bus drivers elected were L. R. Wallace full time and Tom Wardlaw a part time driver in the place of Homer Tompkins who has moved on to Irving.

A $122 check was authorized to be paid to the State Department of Public Welfare for surplus commodities for the school lunch program.

Consideration of the purchase of the Morrison property for future expansion was thrown out in favor of expansion in other directions of the school.

GENERAL ROBERT AND YOU

Whether it's the nomination of a presidential candidate at one of the national political conventions, or the monthly meeting of your neighborhood PTA, a set of procedural rules compiled 80 years ago by an almost-forgotten Army General usually has much to do with the way the business is conducted.

You have probably heard of "Robert's Rules of Order" which was published in 1876. General Henry M. Robert ordered only 4,000 of his original edition, but since that time almost 1,500,000 copies have been printed. The rules have been modernized from time to time, but the revisions have been slight.

Actually the rules for conducting a meeting go back to the early days of the English Parliament, although General Robert based his upon the rules and practice of the U. S. Congress.

Robert's Rules come close to being "law of the land". They are given added legal status by the fact that the charter, constitution, or by-laws of almost every organizaion you can name - your wife's lierary society, your labor union, or the corporation you work for (large or small) - ordinarily state somewhere that all meetings will be "conducted in accordance with Robert's Rules of Order". Special rules may be made by any organization contrary to Robert, but if such provisions are not in the by-laws his little book - where incorporated in such by-laws - remains the "bible" to be followed strictly.

All this means, in effect, that if a serious question arises over the legality of action taken by an organization, a court might have to consider General Robert's rules with the same care as it does the law to determine whether the action in question was proper.

If you take an active part in church, school, civic or fraternal organizations, some knowledge of Robert's Rules is important. At your lodge meeting, for example, things go much smoother if both the chairman and the members on the floor follow Robert and stick to the business at hand. That way you'll get home before the wee, small hours, and still have time for some relaxation after the business session.

There are many simple guides to Robert that will help, and unless you are chairmen of a large or important meeting it probably isn't necessary to know all the details in the whole book.

Now we move to adjourn until next week - a motion which General Robert says takes precedence over everything else.

This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform - not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

The same two teams will play the second game of the series Sunday, August 19 in Cameron.

The Cameron team was sponsored by Cameron Fruit and the players themselves. Come to the game Sunday.

Ed. Note: Accompanying the following story of early Cameron titled "Thinking of Home" a letter came from Demmy M. Kemp a brother of the late Judge Jeff T. Kemp and a former publisher of the Cameron Daily Herald. He now lives in Greensburg, Louisiana The little historical gem is his and comes to you with his compliments.

by Demmy M. Kemp

The prettiest piece of music I ever heard, is "Thinking of Home"; "Home, Sweet Home" has its charm, but "Thinking of Home, by its name, makes one remember the old home town, where you were raised from childhood and the many thoughts connected with it and thats what I am thinking of today-Cameron, my old childhood home town.

Our family moved from Louisiana, to Cameron in April, 1881, when the Santa Fe Railroad had just been finished as far north as Temple.

My father, D. Kemp and his brother, Marshall Kemp established a mercantile business under the name of "D. Kemp and Brother" in a small building, where now stands the McLane Wholesale Grocery firm and we lived in a small cottage in the rear of the store, where my youngest brother Louis Wiltz Kemp, Texas Historian, was born a few months later. That street had several small business houses on it to the south, the last being a Saloon and in about the center of the street Mr. Knauff had a business of some sort; he was an ex-Confederate soldier and used to tell us all about the war and how many "Dam Yankees" he killed. He had a son called "Baby Knauff" the largest person I had ever see, who soon afterwards died and they had to build a special casket to hold his enormous body. The business part of the sleepy old town, was mostly built around the old Court House, and the memory of the old court room is not pleasant, for most men "Chawed" tobacco in those days and the cuspidors were usually loaded with tobacco juice; many were poor marksmen and missed the pot. All the stores had long benches in front, for people to rest and exchange the local gossip. The com pletion of the railroad stimulated the growth of the village, for like old Van Winkle, it awakened from its slumber of several years, shook itself and took on new life.

In less than two years following our arrival in January 1883, my mother described Cameron in a letter to her sister-in-law, as follows: "Cameron is still improving we have seven large dry goods stores, two groceries, one book and music store, three milliner shops, a candy and fruit shop and three or four miserable establishments, called saloons". Where the City Hall now stands and in the rear of it and about fifteen feet below the front, was once a blacksmith shop, with a spring near by. The shop was owned by the mighty Jumbo Lariby (who married Mary Little), who used his anvils to fire salutes on special holidays, such as when Hoods Texas Brigade had a reunion.

When we arrived, it was only about 20 years since Major Rogers (Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp's father) had organized a company in Cameron, to join the Confederate army, to become part of Hoods Texas Brigade, who fought in most of the important engagements of that terrible war, among which was Gettysburg, where Major Elbert Bean lost his arm. He was years later made Treasurer of Milam County.

When the news of the election of Grover Cleveland as President in 1884 reached Cameron, the town went wild; the church bells rang day and night, as did the anvils of Jumbo Lariby, who moved his anvils to the Court House yard and fired them day and night; at night, a parade of horseman paraded the streets with torches and probably a little "Firewater" under their belts, for they yelled like Comanche Indians. Most men rode horseback in those days, for it was more of a cattle country then, than farming and more dangerous to steal a horse, than kill a man; for the common defense of killing a man, was that the man who was killed: "Reached in his PISTOL pocket"; meaning hip pocket where men toted their pistols. Many of the men became bowlegged from constantly riding horseback and when they did walk and meet a friend, both would squat down to talk; the girls rode on side saddles and didn't Squat; so will advise all young gals to quit riding stride or they will get the squatting habit.

There were only two churches in Cameron when we arrived, the Baptist and the Methodist and both segregated their members by not allowing men and women to sit together, making the men take the right side and ladies the left. The wall on the men's side was stained with tobacco juice. I don't remeber the name of our Methodist minister, only that he preached very long sermons and kept me awake by constantly telling about the horrors of Hell and thoroughly convincing me that I didn't want to live in such a place brother James Peeler, used to assist him and preach very short sermons but was as much against sin as the other preacher but he let us out early for our usual Sunday chicken dinners, and we all loved him. I was with this dear old soul at his death bed and he told me:" I think our church is wrong on taking the stand they do on dancing, for its kept many boys and girls from becoming members of our church".
